FOREWORD

In the 1959 TALISMAN we have attempted to take you on a journey through Rutland High School. We came back to school in September, eager for this to be the best year yet. Before we knew it, the first making period had ended and we were proudly — or unhappily — bearing home report cards to be signed and criticized. Then Christmas, New Year's, and the end of the first semester were upon us. After that, with the daily round of classes and activities, time flew, and, before we knew it, June had come, and we were leaving Rutland High forever. This year has been a pleasant period in our lives, one which we hate to see coming to a close, but "the best is yet to be."

We, the TALISMAN staff, have had many enjoyable experiences while putting this book together. In the years to come, we shall look through it again and again and say, "Remember when—?" It is our earnest hope that you will enjoy reading our TALISMAN as much as we have enjoyed working on it.

SEPTEMBER . . . vacation's over, gang . . . renewed friendships . . . fresh crop of sophomores . . . class elections . . . ambition galore . . . Red and White, team fight . . . wonderful year ahead.

Administration

Principal's Message

"Around the School in 180 Days", the theme of the 1959 Talisman, will have a variety of meanings to you, the members of the graduating class. To some of you it may suggest a carousel — a merry-go-round of days and events week after week with little that is new or different.

To others of you it will suggest the reviewing of a long and exciting journey. During this one hundred eighty day journey now drawing to its close you will have discovered many facts about this earth and the people who inhabit it. You will have developed ideas and ideals that are new and bright and shining. You will have made decisions that you have never been called upon to make before. You will have set up standards of behavior for yourselves that you may sometimes have difficulty in maintaining. You will have made friendships which will endure all your lives. You will have done things, good and perhaps not so good, that you will never do or ever have the chance to do again. You may even have been fortunate enough to have viewed a glimmer of the light of Understanding over a distant horizon and perhaps taken your first steps toward its everlasting brilliance. Looking back on these one hundred and eighty days around the school and at yourselves in relationship to them will be almost like looking into the mirror of your past and seeing the image of your future all at once and the same time.

My best wishes go with you as you begin your life of new independence. May you always be able to meet the responsibilities that your independence will inevitably place upon you. May you have the stature and the wisdom and the Divine Guidance that all of us need to make our lives full and satisfying to ourselves and useful to our God and to humanity.

Our Hearts were Young and Gay

"And you'll remember everything I've told you, Baby?"

"The play's the thing." So thought two capacity audiences who attended the Senior Class production, Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, in the auditorium on November 20 and 21.

A sparkling comedy, the play deals with the hilarious adventures of Cornelia Otis Skinner and her friend, Emily Kimbrough, on a summer vacation trip to Europe.

Heading the cast were Regis Sloan and Louise Clark in the roles of Cornelia and Emily, with romantic interest provided by Alan Ellis and David Pratt. Gretchen Lamb and Larry Dugan were excellent in the parts of Cornelia's parents.

Kaye Kinney, Lynn Stafford, Lon Champney, Judy Mangan, Karen Wilson, Newell Charlton, Greg Arthur, Lee Wilson, Philip Moore, and Peggy Grant did well in minor roles.

Mrs. Mildred Crowley directed the play, assisted by Sandra McCullough.

Mr. Alexander conducts last minute rehearsal for Christmas pageant.

Augmented by a large and enthusiastic group of new sophomore members, the Chorus continued to delight Rutland audiences throughout the year with polished performances ranging from the memorable Christmas pageant to a spring presentation of The Mikado.

Rehearsals were held daily during the noon hour under the direction of Jack W. Alexander.

The chorus appeared before several local organizations, and selected members represented R.H.S. at music festivals in New England and Canada.

Members begin work on selections for music festival.

"Let's try that section again. One, two . . ."

These words were spoken dozens of times by Mr. Alexander at rehearsals of the Rutland High School orchestra. For the first time in several years, the orchestra was composed of woodwinds, brass, and percussion as well as strings.

Its members attended at least one of three music festivals — the Mount Royal in Montreal, the All-State, and the New England.

Another high spot in the year's activities was the annual television appearance on WCAX in Burlington. In addition, the orchestra furnished background music for the Senior Play and The Mikado besides participating in the spring concert and playing for graduation.

That R.H.S. girls are sports-minded is evidenced by the large number who joined and took part in G.A.A. activities this year.

Sponsorship of varsity basketball and softball competition, cheerleading tryouts, a tasting supper, and a lecture and demonstration by Bonnie Pruden, nationally known expert on physical fitness, afforded an interesting and varied program.

Boasting one of the most active extra-curricular groups at R.H.S., the International Relations Club completed another successful year with a list of worthwhile accomplishments to its credit. Among these were the annual Rutland County Teen Age Talent Show, a brotherhood film showing, a special assembly for United Nations Week, and sponsorship of the Hallowe'en program for UNICEF. In addition, the annual United Nations Contest was conducted under club auspices. A record hop, "Texas Moon," was one of the highlights of the winter social season.

F.H.A., an organization for girls particularly interested in homemaking, had a busy year with a variety of interesting activities.

Members worked on a teen age consumer project, prepared gifts for the aged at Christmas, served the National Honor Society banquet in March, and brought the year's activities to a close with a Parents' Dinner in May.

Their job the task of maintaining order in the corridors, a selected group of 27 seniors took their stations between classes and saw that student traffic moved in smooth and orderly fashion.

This group was picked at the close of their junior year by the faculty because their past record of leadership and service indicated the proper responsibility for their important function.

The monitors held semi-monthly meetings for the discussion of school traffic problems.

A disk jockey hop in February and candy sales throughout the year were successful money-raising events.

In June a new group of juniors was selected to carry on the fine tradition of service to the school which the 1958-59 Monitor Squad has shown.

Visit Room 214 almost any afternoon after school, and you will find a bustle of activity as editorial staff members go about the business of putting together another issue of the Red and White.

Its Friday afternoon appearance in the home rooms is a welcome sight, subscribers eagerly picking up their copies to find out "what's new" at R.H.S.

Business board members perform a variety of important jobs. They solicit and collect money for ads and supervise delivery of the paper. If it were not for these fledgling business men and women, one very enjoyable part of R. H.S. life — the Red and White — would not be possible.

Dina Handler and Pat Wener try to beat the deadline as another issue goes to press.

National Honor Society

MEMBERS ELECTED IN 1958

Seven seniors and eight juniors were received into the National Honor Society at an impressive ceremony on March 12. Seniors who achieved membership in 1958 carried out the induction and spoke on the four cardinal principles of the society — scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Members and faculty committee were later entertained at a banquet served by the Future Homemakers of America.

Maccabee, W. Herrick.

Two well acted comedies, Ring in the Groom and Rise and Shine, were highlights of Mimes activities.

In addition, A Christmas party, talks by two former members of their experiences in dramatics in college, and a stage crew workshop for junior boys lent interest to the year's program. Gretchen Lamb was president and Mrs. Greene faculty adviser of the club.

Robert Smith, Louise Clark, Gretchen Lamb, and Larry Dugan delight student audience in Rise and Shine.

What is your taste in art? A still life, a landscape, a portrait, or one of those modern you-name-its? Whatever it is, you were likely to find it taking shape as the members of the Art Club, under the direction of Miss Lucy Doane, busily wielded their brushes each Wednesday after school.

Library Council

Composed of a small group of students with an especial interest in the library, the Library Council assisted Mrs. Greene in a number of ways. Arranging book exhibits, helping select new books, and presenting an assembly program on the theme, "Travel with Books", as their observance of National Book Week occupied their time.

Organized in the fall of 1957, the Shop Council, composed of 22 representatives of the morning and afternoon classes in machine shop, woodworking, general metal work, auto mechanics, and drafting, has proved to be a valuable addition to R.H.S. extracurricular groups. The aim of the organization is to assist in making a better department, school, and community.

This year the council made sizable contributions to the Havenwood School and the Vermont Crippled Children's Association, designed and erected Christmas decorations for the east side of the school building, built scenery, and repaired and made new articles of school furniture. An exhibit of work was held near the close of the year.

Faculty advisers were Henry L. Doll, chairman; William Miller, Richard Hebert, Carroll Hull, and Charles Manchester.

Officers were Carl Johnson, President; William Littler, Vice-president; Robert Morse, Secretary; and Howard Gould, Treasurer.

President's Message

We have now completed four priceless years in high school, years which will rank among the best of our lives. We shall never forget many of the wonderful experiences we have shared. We have made precious friendships, some of which will endure throughout our lives.

Looking back, we can see that great changes have taken place within us. We have come a long way on the road to maturity. We have acquired what seems to be a vast amount of knowledge. With this knowledge, however, comes the realization that we still know very little.

Soon we shall face the world pretty much on our own. We shall meet with all kinds of obstacles, greater and more difficult to surmount than those which school life has presented. We shall soon learn that life, to quote a popular phrase, is not "just a bowl of cherries." I do not believe that it was meant to be either. We must remember that anything worth having is worth struggling for. If we should become discouraged, we must also remember that no matter how important or unimportant our contribution may seem, we must do our best.

There is never a point in our lives where we say, "This is the end of our education." Education is not like a train that we board, ride for a certain length of time, and then get off. It might better be compared to a line because a line has infinite length. There will always be more to learn.

On behalf of the Senior Class, I should like to thank the people of Rutland who have provided us with such fine educational facilities; our administrators and faculty, who have guided and directed us; and our parents, whose care and devotion have made this day possible. We shall forever be grateful to them.

Lee S. Wilson

Acknowledgments

We wish to express our appreciation to the following persons who have helped us so much in the preparation of our 1959 TALISMAN:

Mrs. Katherine Hinchey, our editorial adviser, for her tireless patience, advice, and hours of work;

Mr. Lewis McKerley, our business adviser, for his skillfull supervision of the business staff;

Mr. William Bartlett, for his fine co-operation and excellent photography;

Mr. Aldo Merusi, for some of the action and informal pictures;

Mr. John Martin, and David Potter '61, for on-the-spot photography throughout the school;

Miss Lucy Doane, for her expert advice on the art work;

Progress Publishers, Inc., for their excellent service and the high quality of the finished product;

The entire staff, for their willingness and effort;

Our patrons and advertisers, for their invaluable financial support.
